Call for PARTICIPATIONS

universal impact of the arts and cultures in societies, beyond borders

GOAL: Unite artists and projects around the world - to demonstrate the involvement and the contribution of the arts in society.

Art and culture are active agents in social, economic and political actions. They speak to the solidarity between peoples, of their situations and ways of life... They have the ability to change mentalities and encourage actions in every fields and activities of society.

The responsibility of an artist lays not only in his aesthetical research or with his/her intellectual impact, but also with his/her ability to influence, challenge, propose, critique, and raise awareness.

The Arts are a way to question and to discover, while searching for new ways to express, to resist, to act... Expressing a unique and subjective point of view is an ethical and esthetical imperative.

Hence, Arts are ways to recognize the endless pluralities of ideas, histories and identities. Arts & Cultures can contribute to an intuitive, sensitive and knowledgeable meetings between differences, leading to the recognitions of similitudes and universalism.
